

PREP Act Extended Through 2029: Empower Your Pharmacy Team Now!

Pharmacists' and Pharmacy Technicians' Expanded Authority Continues Until 12/31/2029!

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has extended pharmacists' authority to independently administer vaccines and provide test-to-treat services under the PREP Act. This declaration, set to be published on Dec. 11, prolongs the authority, initially set to expire at the end of this month, until Dec. 31, 2029. The extension also applies to qualified pharmacy technicians administering certain vaccines.

Qualified Pharmacy Technicians Can Administer:

- COVID-19 vaccines to persons ages three and older
- ASIP-recommended vaccines to persons ages 3-18 according to ACIP's standard immunization schedule
- Flu vaccine to persons 19 and older
